January 2011

Welcome back to a new year! We wish you prosperity and success for all your endeavours. This year at DMDI we are pleased to introduce to you: "The paperless Dental Practice" I can already hear many of you saying; "What do we do with all the paper and film we receive?" The answer is; you do not need to receive, store, scan or hold massive stores of diagnostics in your practice. Please note - DMDI saves, backs up and archives all diagnostics it performs, in accordance with statutory legislation.

From our survey over the last 12 months within a substantial number of Dental Practices, we have gained valuable experience with all the leading Dental Practice and Clinical management software being used.

All these wonderful programs are reducing the need for paper files and/or storage and scanning of film; and improving efficiency with work flows within the practice.

Over the last 12 months we have instigated the use of same day OPG/Lat Ceph image delivery to many dental practices. By sending the referrer a jpg image, that can immediately be uploaded into your Dental Practice software onto the patients file for review and examination, together with the ability to enlarge with clarity, has resulted in the following benefits:

- No need for staff to scan film and then upload into patient files.
- Improved clarity of image delivery to the Dentist
- Greater patient satisfaction and treatment planning
